and what have you

by BOB CRAIG

A research bulletin compiled by the Texas State Teachers Association on "Salary Schedules for Classroom Teachers of Texas Public Schools" came in the mail this week that tells that every school in the state pays their teachers. With all the talk on teachers salaries, both on the state and national level, and the coming legislative session that is sure to be beset with the problem of finding money to raise the teachers' salaries it might be well to look at the pay situation from a local level.

The minimum salary schedule for the Foundation School program, which is the amount paid by the state, calls for a teacher with a Bachelor's degree to receive $3,204 the first year and a $54 increase each year for 12 years.

A teacher with a Master's degree starts at $3,429 with a $4 a year increase for 26 years.

The Hamlin school district pays an additional $200 to its teachers bringing the minimum up to $3,404 for a teacher with a Bachelor's degree and the maximum $3,852. A local teacher with a Master's degree and 26 years experience receives $4,833.

Of the 1105 school districts in the state, 679 are on the minimum schedule, 35 pay up to $100 above, 95 pay up to $200 above, and the others pay up to $1,000 above the minimum.

Schools in this area that pay a minimum are: Merkel, Ron, Rule, Spur, Anson, Hamlin, Avoca, McCauley, Old Glory (furnish housing), McInt Creek (housing and utilities) and Sagerton. Schools paying above and the amount: Roby, $100; Lueders, $100 a year for second and third year; Jayton, $100; Hobbs, $45; Hawley, $300; Albany, $45; Aspermont, $600; Stamford, $200; Sweetwater, $300; Snyder, $796; Abilene, $700.

The teachers pay schedule is both a state and a local problem. The state's problem is to raise the pay up to a level that will attract more qualified people into the teaching profession and the local problem is to pay extra needed to compete with the other schools in the state for the available teachers.

Over the state there are 296 school districts that pay their teachers more than Hamlin is currently paying.

With so many of us who couldn't teach for any amount of money it is amazing that we are able to get as many people in the profession as we do for the training we demand and the pay we give.

Have you noticed how Hamlin's familiar landmark, Moore's Elevator, is getting a facelift. It's a snowy white that can be seen from almost everywhere. The elevator is quite an asset to the town whether painted or not and with the new paint job it brightens the whole town.

Ferguson Theatre Re-named Rogue

Rogue is the new name of the Hamlin Theatre's movie house. The new name was adopted December 1 and replaces the old name of Ferguson which has been used here for many years.

The name was chosen and a contest was held to see if any one could guess the name picked. Mahan Hall won $10 and a months free show pass by picking the right name.

CHRISTMAS SEASON OPENS WITH PARADE THURSDAY — Children of Hamlin took part in the annual Christmas opening Thursday afternoon as the two bands, Camp Fire girls, Blue Birds, and boy scouts were included in a parade which was climaxed with Santa Claus riding an elephant. Riding on the Hamlin Jaycees float are left to right, Katherine Murrell, Darrell Craig, David Howard, Tony Lewis, Timmy Lewis, Connie Jones, and not shown in picture are Debra Butler and Steven Mackey.

Cotton Growers To Vote Tuesday

All growers of upland and extra long staple cottons in Texas are reminded by B. P. Davenport Jr., of Stamford, chairman, Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, that December 13 is referendum day. At stake in the voting is the determination of whether or not marketing quotas will apply to their 1961 crops.

There will be polling places in all of the County's four cotton-growing communities, the Jones County Agricultural Stabilization Committee announced this week. Notices showing the date of the referendum and the location of polling places have been posted in conspicuous places in the County.

N. S. Jones of the County ASC Office points out that eligible voters in the December 13 referendum are persons who as owner-operator, cash tenant, standing rent or fixed rent tenant, landlord of a share tenant, share tenant, or share-cropper engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1960. Further information with respect to eligibility to vote in the referendum may be obtained from the local ASC County Office.

On the day of the referendum information on eligibility also may be obtained at the polling places.

Polling places for the referendum are as follows: A. S. C. Office, Anson; Farmers Co-op Gin, Neidra; Farmer's Co-op Gin, Hamlin; Farmers Co-op Gin, Hodges; Noodle Co-op Gin at Noodle; Farmers Co-op Gin, Stith; Nugent Schoolhouse, Tuxedo; Douthitt Gin, Avoca; Erickdahl Gin, Erickdahl; Good Gin, Funston; Harrison-Mickler Grain Company, Stamford.

Marketing quotas have been proclaimed for both upland and extra long staple cottons as required by law. However, pointed out Davenport, the quotas do not become operative unless approved by at least two-thirds of the farmers voting in the referendum. Any grower engaged in cotton production in 1960 is eligible to vote, Davenport said.

The state chairman added that all upland growers should receive, prior to the referendum, official notice of their 1961 farm acreage allotments. These notices will come from the county ASC offices, Davenport said. The allotments determine the marketing quotas for the individual farm. In a change from the programs in effect for 1959 and 1960, each farm operator will receive only one allotment for 1961. This will represent the farm's share of the national upland acreage allotment of 18½ million acres, Davenport added.

If marketing quotas get the two-thirds favorable vote needed to make them effective, Davenport said all cotton from compliance farms could be marketed without penalty and would be eligible for the full available rate of price support. If quotas are disapproved, compliance with acreage allotment will determine eligibility for the lower rate of price support available.

During the past two years, farm operators had a choice between regular allotment and price support rate and a larger allotment at a reduced rate of support. However, the state chairman said, the law that provided this special program applied only to the 1959 and 1960 crops.

Jaycees Plan Christmas Program Award Certificate

Mrs. Hub Hopper was recipient of the Jaycees' Safe Driving Award at the club meeting Tuesday evening. Jerry Howard, president, presented the certificate to Mrs. Hopper.

Christmas projects being carried out by the club under the direction of Dean Witt, Christmas Activities Chairman, include the Christmas Decoration contest that is jointly sponsored with the Hamlin BCD; the Jaycee float in the Christmas parade, with James Wright in charge; and a shopping tour on Monday, December 19, when 15 underprivileged children will be given $3 to spend as they choose. Guy Weaver is in charge of the shopping tour.

The children will be picked up at 3:30 p.m. at the elementary school and following the shopping trip the Jaycees will take them to their homes.

The club's Christmas Party will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Dyess Officers Club in Abilene. Joe Ford is in charge of reservations.

County Singing

A new time has been set for the Jones County Second Sunday Singing, according to Felix Thompson, president.

The singing will be at 2:00 p.m. Sunday at the Hanna Baptist Church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Area Covered With Ice, Over Inch Rain

Hamlin woke up in a "Winter Wonderland" Wednesday morning as trees were coated in ice and icicles edged the eaves of homes.

The scene was a delight for children and the moisture was welcome by grain farmers, but the icy conditions cause nothing but trouble for high line workers.

Slight thawing began Wednesday morning as light rain was still falling. Rainfall from shortly before noon Tuesday through 5:00 p.m. registered at 1.07 inches. The temperature stayed close to 32 degrees all during the day.

At 3 p.m. around 300 phones were out of order and reports of trouble averaging 20 per hour were being taken by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here. Weight of the ice on telephone lines is causing lines to snap and poles and cross bars to break. Ice laden limbs of trees near the lines are breaking the lines as they fall.

Long distance service was still in operation in Hamlin although other area towns were without this service.

West Texas Utilities crews

are working all hours to keep homes with current. Power was disrupted in the early morning hours as ice collected on lines in the Northwest section of town. Service was restored within an hour and 20 minutes. The same area was without power twice during the day.

Most of the area cotton has been harvested with the Hamlin Farmers Co-op reporting 5516 bales ginned to date. Officials there expect to process only about 30 to 40 more bales. Last year's total for the Hamlin was 6448 bales.

200 ATTEND YOUTH MEETING FRIDAY AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

Last Friday night about 200 persons from fourteen churches were represented at a youth meeting at the Hamlin Church of Christ. The song service, prayers, and a lesson were conducted at the church and then the group went to the grade school cafeteria for refreshments and entertainment.

Guy Caskey, former missionary in Africa, but now preaching at the Lamar Street Church of Christ in Sweetwater, was the guest speaker. He spoke on "Life's First Chapter." He stated that the first chapter in a book is the most important and the most difficult chapter to write. He compared the period of youth as the first chapter we write in life. He stated that the basic difference is that the first chapter in a book can be re-written before publishing, but the first chapter in life can be written only once. He then outlined some things youth should and should not write in that first chapter.

Refreshment were served as the young people entered the cafeteria. The high school class of the College Church of Christ of Abilene sang. James Turner, of ACC, made quite a hit with the young people as he sang and played his ukelele. The young people of the Hamlin Church of Christ were hosts and hostesses for this area wide youth meeting.

Towns represented were: Sweetwater, Abilene, Aspermont, Lueders, Old Glory, Stamford, Clyde, Snyder and Haskell.

CITY'S FINAL 1960 COUNT AT 3,791

3,814 PEOPLE IN TEXAS FOUND OUT IN 1960 THAT THEY HAD CONTACTED TUBERCULOSIS

Editor's note: Many facts about the work of the Tuberculosis Association are not completely understood and in order to acquaint Herald readers with some important aspects of that work we print the following information.

Eighty-three Texans found out last week they had tuberculosis.

Added with others who have been told this same distressing news in 1960, the new cases of TB in Texas to late November equaled 3,814.

Unfortunately, the number of new cases of TB in Texas probably does not end here—health authorities believe there may be more cases that have not been reported to the health department than have been reported.

TB no longer spurs death as often as it once did. But TB still may mean months of hospitalization, years of drug treatment and a lifetime of curtailed activity.

These new victims of TB in Texas, other victims who have TB and do not know it and thus do not protect others from their contagious germs, the 3,000 plus Texans in state TB hospitals, private and veterans' hospitals—are a part of the story which makes the Christmas Seal Campaign of the TB association important to every Texan.

What do you buy when you buy Christmas Seals and use them with your messages of good will to friends at this holiday season?

You buy up-to-date information about TB and how to prevent it, for yourself and for every other Texan. The TB association arranges talks by doctors and other health authorities, show films to school children, P.T.A. groups, persons in low income groups in which TB often strikes. It arranges exhibits, sends out news stories on efforts to control TB.

MRS. WILCOX BURIED HERE TUESDAY

Mrs. Surilda Elizabeth Wilcox, 85, died in a Big Spring hospital at 3:00 a.m. after being hospitalized for five months. Funeral services were held Tuesday at 1:00 p.m. in the North Central Ave. Baptist Church with the Rev. T. M. Harrell, pastor and Rev. W. W. McHugh officiating. Burial was in Hamlin East Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were: Robert Cary, Roy Embrey, Bobby Selfres, L. H. Clark, Bill Sattis and Eddie B. Hoper.

Born February 22, 1875, in Howard County, she was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bill Prock. In 1896 she was married to Mr. Wilcox in Cleburne, Texas.

They came to Hamlin in 1914. He passed and preceded her in death in 1940.

She was a member of the North Central Ave. Baptist Church.

Survivors include: four sons, W. R. of Wichita Falls; T. E. of Big Spring; Ben and Sam both of Hamlin; four daughters, Mrs. Wade (Nell) Farrell of Fort Worth; Mrs. Rudolph (Rosie) Matecha of Abilene; Mrs. Bill (Violet) Millhorn and Mrs. H. A. (Eunice) Perkins both of Hamlin; two brothers, Ed Prock of California and John Prock of Dallas; thirteen grandchildren and twenty-two great-grandchildren.

Most important, perhaps, is its continuing campaign to remind people of good health habits and precautions—to tell them that tuberculosis still exists, still victimizes their neighbors. With guidance of medical groups, the TB association gives tuberculin tests to school children and neighborhood groups, informing them of individual conditions.

You buy research when you buy Christmas Seals. A team of doctor-researchers in Dallas is presently seeking to isolate germs which resemble TB germs, but which do not respond to the same treatment. A team of Houston doctors is trying the same thing along different lines. If their efforts are successful, doctors will be able to treat this "TB cousin" disease which has been cropping up in many parts of Texas and which has long baffled medical men.

Another doctor-researcher is seeking to find a way of earlier diagnosis of TB—such a way could save hospital expense and conceivably save lives. This research is paid for by Christmas Seal money.

Other research is directed at finding a way to prevent TB and a way to cure it absolutely. Researchers scattered over the U. S. are doing this. Their efforts are paid for by the Texas and other tuberculosis associations, combining their Christmas Seal funds.

Your Christmas Seal dollar buys other things—help in setting up the X-ray units in those areas where TB is most prevalent, and a consistent effort to bring about even better patient care in State TB hospitals, to mention two very necessary functions.

Farm Income Tax Meeting Planned Thursday, Dec. 15

Some Jones County farmers and ranchers are paying double the amount of income tax on certain items of their business than they should be paying, by failing to take advantage of capital gains treatment where possible, according to County Extension Agents, Mary Y. Newberry and Kirby Clayton.

To assist farmers and ranchers with this, and other possibilities on the 1960 taxable income, the agents have set a meeting for all interested persons for the county agent's office, Anson Courthouse, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, December 15.

Thomas E. Hunter and Mrs. Tom Joyce Cunningham, District Extension Management Specialists from Vernon, will be present to assist the County Extension Agents in presenting the latest developments and procedures in how to reduce the income tax payments made by the agricultural businessman of Jones County. The specialist say, "It is a privilege of each tax payer to use all permissible means to reduce his income taxes."

Even though an individual does not fill out his own income tax return, the knowledge and use of tax management practices in the daily business of the farm and ranch will mean dollars and cents saved.

The Extension Agents explained the income tax time is just around the corner and that this is a good time for you to be asking questions and receiving answers on your income tax problems.

CHRISTMAS FIRES UNNECESSARY IF A FEW PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

How many persons will die in fires during the Christmas holiday?

"Not a one, necessarily," the National Safety Council declared today. "The grim picture of frequent fires at Christmas does not need to be—not if people take a few precautions."

The Council cited these facts about fires:

1. More than 1,000 persons died last year in December—a month when most fire deaths occurred.

2. Chief victims are the very young—children under 5—and persons 75 years of age or more.

3. In recent years, more than half a million homes have been struck by fire.

4. Fire losses in the home will total more than 300 million dollars this year.

To keep yourself and your loved ones from becoming fire

victims, the National Safety Council makes these life-saving suggestions:

Don't let gift wrappings accumulate so they become a fire hazard.

Don't smoke in bed. And at holiday get-togethers, use deep ash trays that will hold burning cigarettes securely.

Check your Christmas tree wiring for possible shorts. Better to buy a new string of lights than to risk having tragedy visit your home.

Don't leave the Christmas tree lights burning if you're away from home or out of the room for long.

Don't put your tree up too early. And don't leave it up so long it gets dried out.

Metallic Christmas trees are fine—if you use the floor floodlights most manufacturers recommend. Don't risk a death-dealing short by putting a string of lights on a metallic tree.

Luncheon Party Held in B. L. Jones' Home

December 10, 1920

On Thursday at the home of Mrs. B. L. Jones, on Union Ave., Mesdames B. L. Jones and C. C. Prater entertained with one of the prettiest little luncheon parties ever known in the annals of Hamlin history.

The rooms were profusely decorated with Christmas colors and emblems the dining room being especially lovely with its blazing fire of logs. Beneath the chandelier hung a mammoth Christmas bell with red and green ribbon streamers floating down to the table holding place cards.

The table itself was a thing of beauty, spread with its snowy white linen, silver and crystal. The center motif was of holly and poinsettias surrounding a miniature lake of crystal. Covers were laid for twelve and a dainty but substantial luncheon of five courses was served at one o'clock after which the guests were taken on an auto ride over town and out to "our lake." On their return they found tables prepared for the ever fascinating game of "42". None of the numerous entertainments planned for the holidays can surpass this, the first.

All the dirt, grease, and even that gasoline odor removed from your clothes when we dry clean them. Give us one trial and see for yourself.

Mrs. A. R. Elam entertained the Kongenial Kard Klub in the home Tuesday afternoon with three tables of contact in play. Members present were Mmes.

Hunters all across the state say that a deer is a deer no matter what the kind.

However, such a statement is only partially true. True enough, both mule deer and white tails have four legs, a head, and grow antlers. But when it comes to hunting them, the two are quite different.

In the first place the mule deer like a different type of terrain for its stomping grounds. It loves the mountainous country like the Big Bend National Park area and the Trans-Pecos. Unlike the white tails the mule deer prefer more

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McCurdy entertained the Arcadian Club and other guests in their home Friday evening.

On Thursday evening, November 21, at 8:30 o'clock, Miss Mildred Malone and Mr. Milton Sharp were united in marriage in the home of the bride's parents, with Rev. J. H. Whitaker, pastor of the Hamlin Nazarene Church, reading the ceremony in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

December 7, 1945

With a number of Hamlin young people on hand, grand opening for the Tiger's Den, Anson Youth Center, was staged Saturday evening at Anson.

Thursday, November 29, Mrs. W. E. Taylor Jr., the former Mary Elizabeth Bowman, was honored at a surprise shower in the home of Mrs. S. F. Clay.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Hodges celebrated their fiftieth anniversary on Sunday, December 2. Mr. and Mrs. Hodges were married in Navarro County at Blooming Grove in 1895. All the children were present.

open country, with fewer large trees.

A hunter after mule deer had best take along his mountain climbing shoes, a canteen and enough food to keep him going.

A white tail hunter often can drive to the spot where he intends to hunt. But the mule deer man must travel by foot or horseback for miles, up into the mountains, after he parks his car.

Mule deer move up high, along ridges and ledges, during the day. There they can watch for intruders. Early in the morning hours they feed along the foothills and breaks, moving up to higher areas as the sun heats up their range.

A mule deer's makeup is so well suited for his surroundings that often he will stand very still, or hide behind a boulder, while a hunter moves by only a few feet away.

Don't look for the old moss-backs below the does and fawns. They won't be there. They will be higher up.

If you go out for a trophy head you're in for a work-out. You have to do lots of trailing and sign reading, to get a rack worthy of mounting.

When you arrive at the general area on which you plan to hunt, get out and look around for deer tracks or other signs of recent activity. If you see enough fresh tracks to indicate that deer are in the area, you stand a good chance of getting one.

But, don't head out in just any direction. Look the situation over. Which way do the tracks lead and are they doe or are they big buck tracks?

If they are sharp pointed, small, and barely visible in soft soil you are looking at the tracks of either a small buck or a doe. If they are deep and large and rounded off in front, you are looking at the tracks of a buck worth hunting.

Now, if you brought that rifle with a scope, and it has been sighted in for 150 or 200 yards, you're ready for a hunt. You won't get nearly as many close shots at mule deer as you do white tails.

If it's early morning, watch closely along places where the brush ends and the open grassy areas begin. These breaks are favorite hiding places for muleys. They can feed in the open at the edge of the breaks and dart back into the brush should something or someone surprise them.

Always move slowly. It's not easy to see a deer standing in the brush with just his head protruding.

Also, if you're moving rapidly a deer will know instantly that what he hears is either another deer moving out in flight, or some predator rushing in on it.

If you move slowly the deer might think that you are just another deer grazing nearby.

Mule deer don't follow trails like white tails. In the first place, the terrain in muley land is rocky. It doesn't change much when hoofed feet march across it.

But these mountain loving deer do prefer certain places for traveling. A lot of times it depends on the conditions. They like to be where they can have the advantage of air currents.

If the breezes are moving downward they will travel along the lower ledges. If the currents are moving up the mountain sides, they likely will be traveling high on the ridges.

It is possible to take a stand and wait them out. But you had better know the abilities and habits of these deer. They will outsmart you most every time.

It's not unusual for an old buck to keep just far enough ahead of its pursuer to stop on a rise or ridge out of sight and watch absolutely motionless.

Sometimes, I've wondered how these animals can cover terrain I couldn't even begin to cross. Don't ever be surprised at anything they might attempt. I've seen them leap from ledge to ledge and climb bluffs that I thought only mountain goats could master.

Their gait, a high, bouncy, stiff-legged one, is ideal for their travel. But it makes them an impossible, moving target.

I don't intend to turn you against hunting mule deer. In fact I strongly recommend this type of hunting. A mule deer is one of the few animals we can hunt in Texas today where lots of planned strategy is a must.

If you are one who loves to climb mountains and tramp around in high places, then get out that rifle and go after an old trophy-horned mule deer.

You'd better be in pretty good physical shape. You can get the youngsters with fairly nice spreads, on the lower levels. But you'll have to get out and work for prize racks. Remember too—after you've bagged him, high on a mountain top, you still have to get him back to camp.

Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSIN, Tex.—New efforts to change Texas' "scratch method" of voting are in prospect as a result of disagreements growing out of this year's close general election.

As the law now stands, voters using paper ballots are required to scratch out the names of all candidates for an office except the one for whom they are casting their vote.

In this year's election, thousands of voters scratched either the Republican or Democratic candidates but didn't notice or bother to scratch the small lists of candidates from the Prohibition and Constitution parties. Some election judges threw out these ballots. Some went ahead and counted them.

Republican leaders contend that they might have won Texas, instead of losing by a thin margin, of the same rule had been applied on all these carelessly marked ballots.

Further, the GOP chiefs charge, the scratch method was designed to encourage voters to vote a straight party ticket.

Actually, scratching is the old, traditional way of voting in Texas. For a time during the fifties the law was changed so that a voter could either scratch out the names he didn't want or put check marks by the ones
he did want. But this either/or approach was even more confusing, both to the voters and ballot counters. So the legislature changed back to the scratch-out method only.

Republican leaders failed to convince either an Austin district court or the state canvassing board (Gov. Price Daniel, Sec'y of State Zollie Steakley and Atty. General Will Wilson) that there was any evidence of fraud in the way ballots were counted this year.

But since the Legislature hardly ever has a session without doing something to the election code, the GOP will have another inning.

LAND BOND SALE DIS-PUTED—House General Investigating Committee will study
the merits of holding a veterans land bond sale Dec. 5.

Veterans Land Board has scheduled sale of $12,500,000 in bonds for that date, but Jerry Sadler, due to become land commissioner Jan. 1, says the sale should wait until next year.

Sadler said that, because of the upcoming change of Federal administrations, interest rates might be lower next year. This would enable the state to sell bonds at a lower rate, paying less for the money it borrows.

Voters by approving a constitutional amendment Nov. 8, authorized the Land Board to pay up to 3.5 per cent interest on the bonds. Previous ceiling had been 3 per cent—too low to find takers in recent months.

COURT BACK TRACKS—
In a rare turnaround, the State Supreme Court reversed its previous decision on an insurance case that construed shock from watching a fire to be "accidental death."

In the case, an accountant died from a blood clot on the brain about a month after having watched fire destroy his office records. Two lower courts held that the beneficiaries of the accountant's insurance policies were entitled to the double indemnity provided for accidental death.

Several months ago the Supreme Court issued a 5-to-4 decision upholding lower courts.
On motion for rehearing, it revised this and held, again 5-4
that the case was not "accidental death."

INSURANCE BOARD VA-CANCY—More than usual interest will center on Governor Daniel's appointment of a new chairman of the conflict-torn State Board of Insurance.

Motorists will lose an outspoken friend on the Board when Penn J. Jackson leaves to return to his old post as district judge in Cleburne.

Jackson has resigned the insurance post effective Jan. 1.

He has been in open disagreement during the past few months with the other two board members over the so called merit rating plan for auto insurance. He favors scraping the present controversial plan and letting companies set up their own basis.

Board Members Robert W.
Strain and Ned Price want to continue the controversial plan,
at least for a time.

Public indignation over the new program has been high.
Its ups auto insurance rates about 30 per cent on drivers who must pay the high penalty for receiving traffic tickets, regardless of their accident records.
Only other recourse is to do without insurance.

Jackson's resignation means
there will be two insurance

board appointments to be confirmed by the Senate next session. Price was appointed last spring and has not yet come up for Senate approval.

Merit rating has stirred up strong feelings, pro and con,
among legislators and undoubtedly will be a factor in the behind-closed-doors discussion of Board appointees.

PAYROLL TAX PROPOSED—
State Finance Advisory Committee will recommend a payroll tax, borne equally by employers and employees, to bolster the state's sagging treasury.

Commission plan calls for a 1 per cent tax, half to be taken from the employee's wages, half to be paid by the employer.

It would raise an estimated amount of $100,000,000 to $110-600,000 a year. Even this would not cover all the state's new money needs if the legislature attempts to meet demands for school improvements and medical care for the aged.

Payroll tax, actually an income tax on both businesses and individuals, is certain to meet the objection that it is not graduated according to ability to pay.

TUITION HIKE ASKED—
Another money-raising proposal that is already stirring up sand is a proposed $50 a year
raise in tuition for state colleges.

Commission on Higher Education voted to recommend this increase to the Legislature saying that it would bring in an additional $5,000,000 a year
for college support.

It would mean the tuition for a nine-months term would go up from $100 to $150.

Tuition increases, when they come before the Legislature before, have set off hot debates.
Opponents charge that it "keeps the poor boys out of college."

Commission also voted to ask the Legislature to admit the University of Houston to the state college system—provided, among other things, that it will not cut down on support of existing state colleges.

NEW CLUB RULES ISSUED
—Beginning January 1, private clubs in Texas can operate only if they meet the following requirements set by the Liquor Control Board: (1) Provide food service. (2) Meet basic operating expenses from dues
and fees rather than from liquor sales. (3) Be managed by officers elected by the membership. Rules are designed to prevent operation of open saloons under the guise of private clubs.

Rural Civil Defense Meetings To Start In Anson Monday

A series of Rural Civil Defense meetings will be held in Jones County beginning on Monday, December 12th, according to an announcement
this week by Mary Newberry
and Kirby Clayton, Jones County Extension Agents.

Mr. Woodrow Simmons who has had several hours training
in civil defense work in Abilene will help the agents with these meetings.

The role of the farmer in case of a nuclear attack and the measures and precautions necessary to survive such an attack will be discussed at these meetings. The agents will also have first hand information in building underground
cellars and a list of things which should be taken into these cellars for the preservation of the families life over a two week period.

All farmers and other interested persons are urged to attend these very important meetings. A schedule of these meetings are listed below:

Anson—County Agents office—December 12th, 2:00 p.m.
Erichsdahl Church, December 12th, 7:00 p.m.

Hawley School, December
13th, 7:00 p.m.

Neinda Community Center,
December 15, 7:00 p.m.

Noodle School, December 19, 7:00 p.m.

Texas Agriculture Extension Service economists report that farmers have increased the per-acre yield of 18 leading field crops by 71 percent in less than 20 years and that more than twice as many workers are required to furnish farmers with needed supplies and to market the products they grow than are needed on the nation's farms.

The year 1958 holds the dubious record in Texas for more major multiple-death crashes than any other year since such records have been kept by the Department of Public Safety.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

SIZE TEN SHOE HAS HER SHOOK

Dear Amy: I am seventeen and much to my dismay, I wear a size 10 shoe. I am so self-conscious about this that I'm letting it ruin my social life. I am not built out of proportion in any other way but big feet. I know that nothing can be done about them but I was hoping a word of advice would help me feel better.

Charlene

Dear Charlene: Don't fret! It is common knowledge that boys "like ankles up." If you don't believe it, ask any boy.

Dear Amy: When school was out last June, my 13-year-old daughter became friends with the 12-year-old girl next door, but living across the street was another girl, who, no matter how many times my daughter asked her to join in their activities, refused, saying she had other plans.

I left for a short summer vacation and upon returning found two girls close friends. They completely ignored and excluded my daughter from their fun. However, when my daughter's birthday rolled around, the two girls came over with a gift. Since we were the present lacked a sincere expression of friendship, we refused the gift. The next day, neither the two families will speak to us. This is very awkward. I need your advice. If I owe these families an apology, they will get it. I had felt the two girls should have observed that I had been going on and should have asked the girls to include my daughter rather than to let me ignore her until her birthday and then to be so crushed and offended because we did not accept a gift from them under the circumstances.

Mrs. D. C.

Dear Mrs. D. C.: Parents cannot always control their children's actions. Whatever the girls had for excluding your daughter, they finally decided to make amends. The sincerity of the gift should not have been questioned and to refuse it was an insult. Now it's your turn to make amends. Apologize... sincerely!

Dear Amy:

Why do women need shoes to match each dress, hats to match every coat and gloves to match every suit?

Her Husband

Dear Husband: For the same reason they need an understanding husband to match every mood!

Dear Amy:

My childhood friends are already taking their children to school, so you can see I'm no longer a girl, and this brings me to my problem. I'm getting desperate to hook a man and I'm willing to try anything. I live with my parents and my father is retired. In order to leave no stone unturned, they are willing to move to another state (whichever one I chose) to help me out.

Amy, can you please tell me which states are known to have the most eligible men?

Janet

Dear Janet: New York, Washington and Alaska!

Dear Amy:

I have a very good lady friend who lives near me. She works a few hours in the evening. Her husband is at home when she goes to work. Lately I've noticed a woman going into their house soon after she leaves. My husband says I shouldn't jump to conclusions and maybe I should look the other way. What do you think?

A Neighbor

Dear Neighbor: There are no maybes about it! I agree with your husband.

PERSONAL to Burned Up: Never argue at the dinner table, for the one who is not hungry always gets the best of the argument.

FORT WORTH FAT STOCK SHOW TO FEATURE CHARIOT RACE

A spine-tingling chariot race between two powerful four-horse teams from the movie "Ben Hur" will be one of the outstanding attractions during the 1961 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Rodeo, President-Manager W. R. Watt has announced.

The Fort Worth rodeo, Jan. 27-Feb. 5, will feature more than 300 top cowboys competing for approximately $60,000 in prize money. Besides the spectacular chariot race, spotlighted entertainment will include Jay Siler's nimble dogs, five colorful trick riders and two outstanding clowns.

Forty-one pretty ranch girl barrel racers will add a dash of color and excitement. Cutting horses will pit their intelligence against determined calves, and a number of horse show events are scheduled.

The chariot race will find the hard-driving white team originally driven by Charlton Heston challenging the movie's four dappled greys. The race will be staged live in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum at all 20 performances of the Stock Show rodeo, beginning Friday night, Jan. 27.

Glenn Randall, owner and trainer of the horses, spent almost a year in Rome training the animals for the film version of "Ben Hur." He and Glenn Randall Jr. will be in the chariots as the race is run again in the Fort Worth arena.

Jay Siler's Australian Shepherd dogs and his educated greyhound, Blondie, have been a hit on the rodeo circuit for 12 years—ever since Siler broke his leg. The young rodeo contestant trained dogs while recuperating, and formed such a fresh and entertaining act that he gave up bucking broncos for good.

Five veteran trick riders will furnish the thrills in that department.

CRYST-L-CRAZE—the new crystallizing coating for plastics, metals, glass etc., only 45c at THE HAMLIN HERALD. Colors include fluorescent pink, red, blue, orange, black, violet, green and turquoise.

MRS. HODGES OF NEINDA DIES MONDAY

A long time resident in the Neinda community, Mrs. J. V. Hodges, 82, died in Anson General Hospital Monday at 2:15 p.m. after being hospitalized for six days.

Burial was in Neinda Cemetery under the direction of Hamlin Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Travis Hubbard, Audrey Hodnett, Irby Weaver, O. H. Weaver, John Brown Sr. and Rod Brown.

'IT STARTED IN NAPLES' PART OF ROGUE FRIDAY DOUBLE BILL

All the ingredients that make for happy motion picture entertainment are contained in Paramount's new Shavelson-Rose Production, "It Started in Naples," which arrives Sunday at the Rogue Theatre. It is a romantic comedy in Technicolor, filmed in picturesque Capri, Rome and Naples; it pairs Clark Gable and Sophia Loren—two prime symbols of cinematic sex appeal in what is called "chemical casting"; it adds for extra native dash and wit, the charming Vittorio De Sica and a sensational young boy, Marietto; and for good measure, it sparkles with gay songs and dances.

Gable, who prefers making this type of film—romantic comedy—to any other, portrays an American lawyer with a conscience who goes to Italy to settle his late brother's estate. There he learns that his brother has left a young son who is being looked after, and not too well, by an "aunt"—a honky-tonk entertainer played by Sophia Loren. Gable decides to take the boy back to America with him, but has to contend with Sophia and the Italian way of life, which prove formidable obstacles. Before he realizes he's in love with both obstacles, there's a lot of fun for all.
